The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published therein.A jury failed to convict a member of the Brattleboro baseball team for breaking the Sabbath by playing baseball.
Possibly the jurors saw the exhibition and concluded it wasn't baseball, only an attempt.In his expedition into Fiume, D'An-unzio is finding plenty of material for poetry writing in his spare time hereafter. In fact, it would not be surprising if he should get enough material to last him a lifetime.Massachusetts has its annual worry of state election. Meanwhile Vermont is enjoying a measure of repose from such activity. A two-year election has its advantages, the opponents of Governor Clement to the contrary notwithstanding.John D. Rockefeller's donation of two million dollars to the aid of "indigent" Baptist ministers in the northern states is likely to boost that $800 average salary. No doubt part of the income will be available for churches of the denomination in Vermont.It is a dull world series when a Vermonter does not get into the lineup of one or the other of the contending teams.
This year it is Ray L. Fisher, who plays with the Cincinnati club and who is rated as one of the best pitchers of the league. The pasture lots of Vermont always have some good exponents of the national game in the major leagues.The village of Barton has a Peerless factory which is so rushed with work that it has all the orders it can fill for the next six months, not to mention orders now being taken by nine salesmen on the road. The concern is advertising for women employees. This concern is not the same as the one for which Barre people subscribed. The hum of industry in the Barton plant may be taken to mean, however, a large volume of business when the Peerless Knitting Mills' Co. gets its Barre factory into operation.Very little has come to light about the relations between the French and the Germans in the territory taken over by the French at the close of the war, namely, Alsace-Lorraine, so it is hard to say how the 40-year residents are taking the situation brought about by having a new government. That there are sporadic outbreaks at least one might judge by a report from a German source, telling of a clash between Germans and French followed by the arrest of a large number of Germans. It is to be expected that the residents of the restored provinces who are probably of German extraction will resent the crowding in of other people, chiefly French of course, and that there will be broils and petty disturbances until the relations become adjusted.

GROTON

Mrs. Baldwin of Burlington was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carbee over Thursday night.Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Taisey and Mrs.
Roy Blanchard were in Barre yesterday.

yesterday from St. Johnsbury, where they have been spending the week and attending the fair.Mrs. Jackson Jones and Mrs. Stead Thornton were in Barre Wednesday and Thursday, as delegates to the annual meeting of the Vermont conference of the Woman's Home Missionary society.Dr. L. N. Eastman is raising the roof of his tenement house, which connects with his barn, making it more convenient and adding to the appearance when completed.Mr. and Mrs. Scott D. Welch of Barre were in town the first of the week visiting relatives.John Benzie has recently erected a handsome Groton granite monument and five markers on the S. P. Welch lot in the village cemetery. This monument was purchased by Mrs. Welch in memory of her late husband.William Lindsay of South Ryegate has been visiting Mrs. Roy Blanchard, his sister, several days this week.Dr. Burr, who was in town last week, has appointed as local board of health the selectmen of the town, Bernard S.
Eastman being chairman, by virtue of his office as first selectman.Mrs. J. A. Chalmers was in Montpelier yesterday for medical treatment.A large number from this place attended the fair at St. Johnsbury on Wednesday and Thursday.Services at the Methodist church Sunday morning at the usual hour, 10:45.
Topic of sermon will be "The Marks of Sin." Evening union service will be at the Baptist church at 7:30.Mrs. L. P. Bowles of Barre is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter, her parents.B. E. Eastman purchased the J. F.
George farm on Leighton hill of Jesse Welch estate, and has sold the same to William Darling of Westville.Sunday morning service at the Baptist church at 10:45; subject, "Christ as a Physician." Baptismal service. Evening service at 7:30.

Thrift

Thrift is more than the saving of money; it is the practice of conservation, conservation of effort, conservation of time, conservation of all those qualities which contribute toward efficiency and which, unfortunately, are too often regarded in value from a money standpoint.Conservation and concentration go hand in hand; great power is produced by the concentration of accumulated energy and in no other way can the greatest efficiency be produced.It seems difficult to make it clear to many people that war, in an economic sense, is still continuing with all of its dangerous tendencies and that the need for the practice of thrift and economy was never so urgent as it is to-day. Some financiers say: "Produce, produce more goods"; but this will not get us anywhere, if we continue to waste our present resources. We need production, but we need vastly more conservation. Thrift in its application must be broadened from a personal habit to a national characteristic. It should be a part of the curriculum of every school in this land where its impress can be left upon the minds of every youth in a lasting way.Schools and colleges should not only teach knowledge, but how to apply it.
They should teach that the practice of thrift is a creator rather than a creature of good citizenship.Our government took us a long way in the development of thrift habits during the war. We all recognized its value then, why shall we not do so now?

To the Public

If you feel that you cannot afford to build a home, owing to the high cost of all materials entering into the construction, we ask you to consider seriously the proposition of buying one that is already built, as there are properties for sale which would be bought for much less than you can build. We would be very glad to assist in the purchase of properties and pleased to have you call and talk with us regarding definite plans for payment, etc.
